Effectively Addressing Learning Gaps Caused by COVID-19 School Building Closure

Presenters: Andrea Dobbins & Rochelle Nelson, Charter School Specialists

September 29, 2020, 10:00 am

The statewide school building closure furthered existing learning gaps for many students this past spring. Upon returning to school, educators will be faced with the challenge of effectively addressing these learning gaps and providing high-quality interventions and support to students. Please join CSS staff in an open discussion regarding strategies and guidance to assist in closing learning gaps created by COVID-19. Best practice strategies to be discussed include effective response to intervention, differentiated instruction, and formative and summative assessments.

Exploring Adolescent Literacy

Adolescents entering the adult world of the 21st century must be prepared to read, write and discuss complex text more than at any time in history, but results on the grade 12 National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) have been stagnant for years. Our adolescent literacy services will assist secondary and DOPR building leaders in the process of implementing evidence-based literacy practices proven to enhance literacy outcomes.

Roger Howard, Adolescent Literacy Specialist from the ESC of Northeast Ohio, Region 3, will lead Sessions. Prior to joining the ESC in 2017, Roger served the Independence Local Schools for 11 years in the capacities of Director of Curriculum and Instruction and as a building Principal. The Ohio Association of Secondary School Administrators honored Mr. Howard as the 2011 Ohio High School Principal of the Year.

Common Barriers to Secondary Literacy Instruction: Motivating the Adolescent Student

Audience: DOPR Teachers

Unfortunately, recording is not available.

The professional development will provide evidence-based literacy strategies that are applicable across all content areas. Teachers will be provided with resources and Tier 1 interventions that will assist them in engaging students who have literacy deficits. Further, teachers will gain an in-depth understanding regarding the connection of student comprehension of complex text as an essential element for college and career readiness.

December 17, 2020

Middle School Literacy: Turning Challenges to Success

Audience: Teachers grades 4-8, All content areas

There is a long-held belief that in grades K-3 students learn to read and in grades 4 and beyond students read to learn. Most students do not have formal literacy instruction beyond grade 5. Thus, the professional development will provide evidence-based strategies and resources that will address how to enhance students' ability to comprehend complex text across all content areas. The presenter will seek to demonstrate that Tier 1 strategies can easily be incorporated in classroom instruction.

February 18, 2021

Adolescent Literacy Forum

Audience: DOPR and grade 4-8 teachers and administrators

Via Zoom 2:30PM – 4:00 PM

Participants will have an opportunity to discuss their experiences implementing the literacy practices explored during this literacy series and hear expert advice and feedback.

Online Training for Achieving Equity in Schools

Equity 101: Starting the Equity Conversation

Presenter: The National Equity Project

Online Webinar Available here

The word, “equity”, is everywhere these days – but what does it really mean? Schools, districts and organizations often name “equity goals”. But in order to set — let alone reach — equity goals, you need to create conditions for people to make sense of what equity means, why it’s important, and how to approach it together.

Focal Students: Equity in the Classroom

Presenter: The National Equity Project

Online Webinar Available here.

This webinar explores the learning conditions we’ve created to either inhibit or promote student success, the kind of relationships that increase engagement and ownership of learning for students, how we might use a focal student approach while working towards equity and how we can build learning partnerships between teachers and students.

Implicit Bias, Structural Racialization, and Equity

Presenter: The National Equity Project

Online Webinar Available here.

This webinar explores how current inequities in our institutions came to be, how they are held in place, and our roles as leaders is in perpetuating inequities despite our good intentions. Participants will learn how implicit bias operates and how to take actions to disrupt inequitable practices.

Exploring Social-Emotional Health through “Book Therapy”

Charter School Specialists invites teachers and school leaders to explore social-emotional learning outcomes through the implementation of Bibliotherapy. This month-long training series will provide intensive coaching and training to 12 participants.

Bibliotherapy adds value by:

- Expanding instructional capacity for social-emotional learning through literature to improve student academic performance;
- Advance teachers’ toolkit for understanding and managing students who struggle with social-emotional issues and present challenging behaviors; and
- Develop teacher competence and confidence for executing social and emotional learning through literature to engage students in the learning process.

This intensive coaching series is currently taking place.
